Bedsworth of Belle Vernon yesterday signed the ordinance passed a few days before by the Belle Vernon council granting the Independent Telephone Construction company the right to construct and maintain service in the borough. The bond which has been placed at $5,000 is yet to be presented and accepted, but it is not likey there will be any trouble over this. Thereafter the telephone company will begin work on the construction of their system. Already some work has been done in Belle Vernon and it will not be more than three months at the latest, it is stated, before the system is in operation. Connections will be made with other independent companies in the Monongahela valley

Already there are cables strung from Charleroi to Speers and it is probable that the first connection will be made with Charleroi. The common battery system will be used, it being the same that is in operation in Charleroi.

Albright will send his bill for costs in the Mascerello case to authorities at Pueblo, Colo, who have promised to pay him whatever he spent in securing the arrest of Jack Mascerello in Charleroi. DONORA ITALIAN IS ASSASSINATED

Well Known Foreigner Found Dead With Dirk Knife Through Body

Donora police are searching for Umberto Sarvidio, a shoemaker of Webster, who is believed to be the assassin of Francisco Caruso, one of the best known Italians of Donora. Caruso was found dead with a long dirk knife stuck clear through his body. Salpatoro Michelangelo has been arrested and is being held. There was no evidence of a struggle about where the body had been found, and indications were that Caruso's murderer had sprung upon him from the back and driven the knife in him without warning.

RECEPTION BY STUDENTS

High School Reception at School Hall is Brilliant Affair

NICE PROGRAM RENDERED

Everything combined to make the first annual reception of the Charleroi High School held at School Hall last night a most auspicious event it was strictly an invitation affair, and the guests numbered about 500 persons.

At 8 o'clock a reception was held during which time the High School pupils and the teachers greeted the guests and made them feel welcome. The auditorium was richly decorated with pennants hung the entire length and breadth, representing many schools and colleges. The hall proper was also nicely decorated. A reception committee of girls met the guests at the first landing and welcomed them. They were again welcomed by members of the faculty and other members of the reception committee at the entrance of the auditorium. A buffet lunch was served.

After the reception there was a program rendered beginning at 9 o'clock. Following a song by the High School, Ira L. Nickeson, representing the school board, and H. J. Booth made talks. "Ma's New Boarders," a one-act comedy, was produced with very laughable effect by the members of the Senior Class. A tableau "Charleroi, Cosmopolitan City" was rendered by the members of the freshman class, in this many nations represented by pupils in costume and carrying flags. A violin solo was rendered by Miss Winifred Brown, an alumnus of the Charleroi High School who was forced to respond to a hearty encore. The junior class gave a scene from "Silas Marner," by George Elliot, the program concluding with a song by the Junior class.

The program was of exceptional merit. The play, the tableau and the scene from "Silas Marner" were given by the various classes in a way that did credit not only to individuals who took part, but also to the teachers who directed them. Considerable adaptability was shown to the various parts and contrary to the usual custom in such affairs parts were not overdone. Music sung by the different classes was composed by Prof. I. T. Daniel, music supervisor in the schools, and the words were written by High School students.

Many came from out of town to attend the reception, people being here from Belle Vernon, Speers, Fayette City, California, Alleport, Monessen and Monongahela.

FALLS DEAD ON STREET

Robert J. Linton Expires Returning From Masonic Affair

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN

Lived in Belle Vernon for Years---Well Known in Monongahela Valley

Robert J. Linton of Belle Vernon, one of the most prominent real estate men and members of the Masonic fraternity in the Monongahela Valley, fell dead at Fifth avenue and Wood street in Pittsburg, shortly after 10 o'clock, last night. He had left a merry gathering of Shriners in Exposition Hall a short time before and was on his way to the depot when stricken by heart disease.

Mr. Linton was seen to stagger almost in the path of a swiftly moving car in Wood street. Policeman John Harkins carried him into a cigar store. The dying man made several attempts to speak but died before a physician arrived. The body was removed to the morgue, where his identity was established by papers and letters.

One of the first things discovered in his clothing that assisted in the identification of the dead man was his Shriners cap and a program of songs that were sung last night at the ceremonial session of the Syria Temple, Ancient Accepted Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of which he was a leading member. The exercises were held in Exposition Hall and were largely attended.

One of the members said after Mr. Linton's death that the latter had complained of not feeling well and had decided to go to his home in Belle Vernon. Accordingly he left early to take a train for his home. He had previously notified his family that he would probably remain in Pittsburg with his brother, John H. Linton.

The latter was notified by morgue officials of his brother's sudden death. The widow of the dead man and his two children were notified of his death by Chief of Police J W. Anderson of Belle Vernon.

Mr. Linton was 77 years old and was one of the most influential citizens of Belle Vernon. He had large business interests in other locations, but his main investments were in real estate in Belle Vernon and the surrounding country. In addition to being a Shriner he was also a Thirty-second degree Mason and a Knight Templar. His body was sent to his former home, State street, Belle Vernon, this morning.

Mr. Linton was one of the most prominent residents of Belle Vernon. For many years he had been manager of the Smertz Window Glass Company. After the merger with the American Window Glass company Mr. Linton entered the real estate business and had been very successful. He was born in Ireland 77 years ago and came to the United States in early life. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church of Belle Vernon and assistant superintendent and teacher in the Sunday school.

He had been twice married, his first wife being Miss Caroline Doolittle, of Hudson, Ohio. Of this union three children were born, only one of whom, Robert J. Linton, Jr., a mining engineer in Mexico, survives. One daughter, Mrs. Clara Hamilton, died in China, where she and her husband, Rev. W. B. Hamilton, were missionaries. Some 30 years ago Mr Linton married Miss Mary Robeson of Belvidere, N.J. She survives, with two children, John, employed by the Westinghouse company at East Pittsburg, and Miss Marian, at home.

RIVER MINES RUNNING SHORT

Business Slow Now With Combine Along the Monongahela

Owing to the lack of orders mines of the River Coal combine are running light in the valley now, and some of them are being entirely closed down. This is owing partly to the closing of the lake trade last December, orders which were at that time on hand having been filled. Business will hardly open up in good shape until the first of April. Apparently the River Coal mines are the only ones affected seriously and up the Pigeon Creek valley, it is stated there has been an increase.

ROOSEVELT FINDS BOY

Monongahela Youngster Aided By Ex-President In New York

STRAYED FROM HOTEL

Albert Gunet, nine years old, a Monongahela lad, can claim the distinction of being found by ex-President Theodore Roosevelt. The Gunet family are on their way to Belgium and had stopped over night in New York. Albert took a notion to see the town and started out alone. He hadn't gone far before he realized he was lost and began to cry. Just at this time Col. Roosevelt came along and taking pity on the lad learned his troubles and had him returned to the hotel, where his parents were stopping.

The School Code

While the average layman does not understand the proposed new school code, he should not be "agin" it, just because it is a new departure and offers some innovations in some departments. It was drawn up by a body of educators and their object is to advance the cause of education instead of, as is claimed in some quarters, seeking to put the control of the schools into fewer hands for selfish and mercenary purposes.

First of all it was designed to codify and classify the school laws and get them all together. From the time of the organization of the Commonwealth laws affecting the schools had been passed at every Legislative session. These have been added to, changed and amended, until they became so conflicting that it is hard to interpret the meaning and intent. There were also some desirable changes to be made, and is a most opportune time to change and revise the laws to meet existing and future conditions. This is the general purpose of the school code, and it is some of the details that are causing the opposition and controversy.

One of the chief objections to the code is that the first boards after the change is made are appointed, instead of being elected. An attempt to make capital out of this is the strongest opposition, yet the provision is one of the best in the whole code. The courts, which are charged with the appointments in the small districts, would no doubt select the best available directors and the start thus made would be an incentive to continue a class of high, minded men in office. One has only to consider the personnel of the Pittsburg school boards which are elected, as disclosed by recent investigation, to be wholly in accord with the appointment of the first school boards under the proposed change. The code is all right, and should command the support of the people.

The Boroughs Rule

According to the census returns, the suburban population of Washington county is no longer in the majority. There are thirty-two boroughs in the county, and their combined population is 78,528. As the total population of the county is 143,630, the population of the thirty-three townships is therefore 65,102. The vote of the boroughs will therefore outclass the vote of the townships.

This should be a good argument for a new county in the river district, applying to Westmoreland, Allegheny and Fayette counties as well as to Washington. The most of the populous boroughs are in the river district, and would come within the jurisdiction of the new county. As the rural districts and the boroughs have different interests in the conduct of public affairs, it would be for the economic welfare of all to separate so far as possible the large boroughs and from the rural districts and combine the former in a separate county. In the matter of taxation, public improvements, and the regulation of the liquor traffic, there will always be a conflict of interests between the boroughs and the rural districts, and separation is a logical settlement of these questions.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Charleroi is a cosmopolitan place all right but we don't have any Indians. To make allowance for this defection a good many people act like Indians.

A man sometimes thinks a harpoon would come handy when the other fellow starts smoking a pipe that for ages could give Metheuselah a big handicap and beat him a trip around the world.

The man who invented the dictionary must have had an awful hard job.

They're getting real aristocratic at High School to have one of these high browed receptions.

E. F. Acheson overcame his prejudice to not believe in anything Gov. Tener believed in long enough to endorse the latter's good roads plan.

If evidence is conclusive many people are just as stingy as others are handy with their money.

There's more poetically inclined people to the square foot of land up in Greene county than there are in Hades. Here's another sample:

And how about Bent,
Who every week
He has went,
To see Miss Gim,
Say Frank did you know
That Lula without a beau,
Had come to our town,
To look around.

It's a pity they wouldn't get down to solid work at Washington without fighting.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Yes," remarked a Charleroi citizen, "I intend to go to the concert of the Welsh singers at the Coyle Theatre next Monday night, for the reason that I believe I'll hear some real singing. I attended one of the concerts of the other company of Welsh singers that was here last year, and heard some of the most beautiful music that I ever listened to. The reason that it caught my fancy was that the singers sang naturally and simply, every word being distinguishable. Being trained singers the effect was beautiful beyond description.

"I've often wonderedwhat the result would be if some of the great singers—I mean those who have good natural and well trained voices—would sing some really melodious selections in their natural tone of voice with a distinct enunciation. Like the late Bill Nye, I believe that classical music is better than it sounds."

A colored woman, very jauntily attired, opened the door of 'Squire Jenkins' office the other day and walked in. Beaming upon him she asked:

"Good mawnin. Is you de'Squire?"

"Yes," replied the justice, "What can I do for you"

"I done heerd tell as how you was a good 'Squire, so I comes up from Donora to get some law on mah husband."

"What has your husband been doing?"

"He's been abusin' of me sumthin' scandalous, Squire. I done can't git no law in Donora, so I comes up byre to git some law from you-all."

Squire Jenkins made some excuse about not wanting to transgress in another justice's territory—it wouldn't be legal ethics, you know, to take a case right out from under the noses of the Donora 'squires, until it dawned upon his dusky visitor that her mission was fruitless.

"Den I can't git no law today?" No? All right. Good mawnin, 'Squire," and she departed still beaming as good naturedly as when she came.

Mrs. Enos is spendin the day in Pittburg.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP

It Has Been Proved that Microbes Cause Baldness

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany and Dr. Sabourand, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under observation of eminent scienists. This micobe lodges in the Sedum, which is the natural hair oil and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial, and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store 623 Fallowfield avenue.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Charleroi Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy or a thick red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kineys and cure them permanently. Here's Charleroi proof:

Mrs. Thomas Christopher, 117 Lookout avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: Some years ago a member of my family complained of a dull ache in the small of the back and other symptoms of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros' Drug Store, were finally used and they brought prompt relief. I am always willing to give this remedy my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MOUNTAIN ASH CHOIR TO SING AT COYLE THEATRE

The musical event of the season, and by far the most pretentious in the annals of Charleroi, will occur Monday evening of next week, at Coyle Theatre, when the Mountain Ash Male Choir, of Wales, will be heard in a repertoire of choruses, glees and part-songs. The appearance in Charleroi of this noted aggregation of Welsh warblers, en route home from a visit to the Pacific coast, assures the music lovers of this community an opportunity to hear the most celebrated male chorus of Wales, whose record of 21 first awards at the national festivals is unexcelled. Prof. T. Glyndwr Richards, the conductor of the choir, is a national figure in Wales, and is regarded as the leading tone colorist of the "Land of Song." Accompanying the choir are five eminent soloists, including D. Cynon Evans, Anthony Jones and M. J. Edwards, tenors, and D. Penar Williams, baritone, and Godfrey Price, basso.

The sale of reserved seat is now on at Piper's Drug Store and the demand indicates that a large and representative audience will listen to the choir next Monday evening. It is worth the price of admission alone to hear this noted organization sing Parks' setting of Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe," not to mention Ambroise Thomas' "The Tyrol," a descriptive selection of a storm in the Alps mountains. The program will include, in addition to the afore-mentioned numbers, Laurent de Rille's masterpiece, "Martyrs of the Arena," a selection depicting the persecution of the early Christains, together with Sir Edward Elgar's "The Reveille," Edward German's "O! Peaceful Night," Rhys Ford's "Lullaby," and other standard works Don't fail to secure seats for this event.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

One of those beautiful, mysterious French photoplays, where visions of bygone events and tragedies are told in human form and action to the older, was enacted at the Palace this week. This was the story of an old Chanteau, where a bridal party of young people are celebrating a joyous event, and the game is for the bride to secrete herself about the grounds and the first of her young girl friends to discover her hiding place will herself be the first of the company to wed. The bride finds a secret passage that leads to an underground apartment, and entering discovers a door to another apartment. Undoing the fastenings she enters, and the door swinging shut behind her and makes her a prisoner. Later she beholds a clothed figure sitting in a chair facing an open huge volume propped up on a table. Touching the figure which collapses it proves to be a skeleton, clothed in woman's robes. Opening the book the tragedy that caused the incarceration of the skeleton is enacted in miniature. It was the old story of man's duplicity and woman's inconstant love. By means of a stray cat the bride's hiding place is disclosed, and the groom makes a thrilling rescue. Some thrilling western scenes were also features. Louis Brusa and John Evers continue to charm the audiences with their illustrated and spot light songs.

The Coyle—Charleroi

The attraction at the Coyle Theatre next Tuesday February 28, will be "The Thief," The play, translated from the French and written by Henri Bernstein, deals in a powerful way with one of the large problems of modern social life. It tells the story of the Thief, a woman who yielded to temptation, sheerly through love for her husband. The three acts were full of dramatic situations and the climaxes were long sustained. Miss Lucille Spinney, as Marise, handles the difficult portrayal of the leading character in a convincing and charming way. The supporting company is strong and accords excellent aid in the expression of characters not easy to portray, Henry T. Crossen as Raymond doing especially well.

The Alvin—Pittsburg

Marie Cahill, who comes to the Alvin Theatre next week in her latest New York success, the unusual musical comedy, "Judy Forgot," is known the world over as the popularizer of some of our greatest song hits, the coon song and "The Bamboo Tree" being included in the list.

Miss Cahill says the trouble with most song written for popular success is, that they either lack a systemetic story or the necessary humorous idea such as distinguished one of her present hits. So much depended on the ginsing strength and dancing ability of the chorus of Marie Cahill's unusual musical comedy, "Judy Forget," that Daniel V. Arthur refused to consider the regulation musical comedy show girl, who can do little else than pose for a place, and that is why he engaged college girls, young girls of unusual physical attractiveness, and had them taught how to dance, and the result is that Judy's chorus is a feature of the performance in place of an animated background.

The Grand—Pittsburg

While there are many important features in the program of cultured vaudeville, which Manager Harry Davis announced for the week beginning Monday afternoon, February 27, in the Grand, two engagements of stellar prominience will especially attract public attention. These are Lovenber's "Operatic Festival," with a company of 15 grand opera soloists, and the distinguished American character actor, William H. Thompson, who will present for the first time a playlet entitled "The Wise Rabbi," written by Leo Uietrichstein.

Mr. Thompson's supporting company includes Evangeline Irving, a sister of Isable Irving and a young actress of splendid attainments. Mr. Thompson is too well known to require extensive comment upon his career. He has been recognized as America's foremost character actor for many years and has starred in such productions as "The Bishop" and "The Secret of Polichenelli." In vaudeville he has presented a number of one act plays beginning with "For Love's Sweet Sake" and including Sir Conan Doyle's "Waterloo" "Pride of Regiment" and "The Cardinal's Stratagem" Altogether nine acts and a series of motion pictures will comprise the Grand's offering.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg.

Edwin Wilton Royle's stirring and picturesque drama, "The Squaw Man," which has been one of the pronounced footlight succese of this generation is to be the attraction at the Duquesne Theatre next week, where this high-royaltied play—never before seen in stock in Pittsburg—will be given for the first time at low prices in that city. The Harry Davis Stock players will thus have another brilliant and enjoyable opportunity to reveal their happy skill in the felicitious impersonation of characteristic Western types. "The Squaw Man" takes its queer title from the fact that its hero is a whit man who has married an Indian maiden and this earns for himself this curious sobriquet. He is a self-exile from his home in England where he enjoys rank and title. But he is under a cloud. In the end his aristocratic relatives find him upon his American ranch with his redskin bride. A little son, half English and half Indian, has been born unto them, and the crisis comes when these relatives seek to tear him away form his forest-born wife and to separate this devoted Indian mother from her child. A deep and big heart interest invest these scenes of the drama. They have a wonderful human appeal. At the Duquesne next week Albert Morrison will be the hero and Mary Hall the Indian wife.

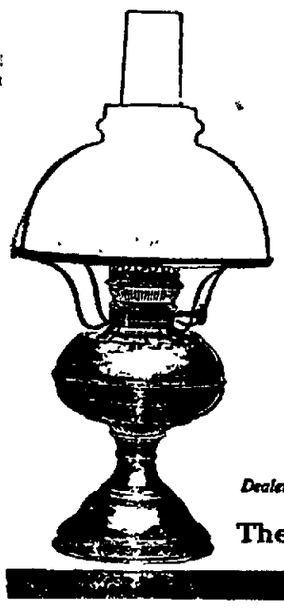
The Famous Rayo



Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickeled, and easily polished.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE DISCUSSED

Good roads occupied the attention of the Monessen Board of Trade at their meeting last night and several well known speakers were present. Among the chief speakers was Crombie Allen from Greensburg. The matter of a free bridge connecting Monessen and Charleroi, was refered to the executive committee to report at the next meeting.

Stories of the Paris Courts.

Among humorous stories of the Paris law courts it is told how a well known lawyer, M. Alem Rousseau, was once pleading a rather tiresome case and, noticing that the judges were paying no attention to him, said, "As the president is falling asleep I suspend my speech." But the judge had just woke up and cried, "And I suspend you from practicing for six months." Nothing daunted, the lawyer retorted, "Well, I suspend myself forever and ever," and, gathering up his brief and cap, he left the court and never appeared again.

A Paris barrister, M. Clery, however, was more vigorous. Seeing that the president and the assessors were all asleep, he stopped, and, dealing a tremendous blow on the desk in front of him that woke everybody up with a start, he cried, "Yesterday at this same hour I was saying"— And the whole bench rubbed their eyes and asked each other if they had really slept through twenty-four hours.

The same counsel was pleading at Versailles on a cold day and remarked that the judges were all turning more and more around toward a stove that gave out a welcome heat. "The tribunal behind which I have the honor of speaking" brought them all right about face at once.

He Had a Claim.

In a certain town was a young lawyer whose father was very rich and who had been sent to an eastern law school. Since his graduation he had done nothing except open an office because he had plenty of money. This young lawyer was proposed for membership in the local fire company.

"We cannot elect him," one of the members protested. "The constitution of our company says that the members of it must sleep and live here in the city, and he lives out of town on a farm and not in the city at all. He would be of no value at all in case of a fire at night. He doesn't sleep here at night."

"No," replied his proposer; "it is true he doesn't sleep here at night, but he sleeps here in his office all day."

And they elected him on that ground. —Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Donora police are searching for Umberto Sarvidio, a shoemaker of Webster, who is believed to be the assassin of Francisco Caruso, one of the best known Italians of Donora. Caruso was found dead with a long dirk knife stuck clear through his body. Salpatore Michelangelo has been arrested and is being held. There was no evidence of a struggle about where the body had been found, and indications were that Caruso's murderer had sprung upon him from the back and driven the knife in him without warning.

RECEPTION BY STUDENTS

High School Reception at School Hall is Brilliant Affair

NICE PROGRAM RENDERED

Everything combined to make the first annual reception of the Charleroi High School held at School Hall last night a most auspicious event it was strictly an invitation affair, and the guests numbered about 500 persons.

At 8 o'clock a reception was held during which time the High School pupils and the teachers greeted the guests and made them feel welcome. The auditorium was richly decorated with pennants hung the entire length and breadth, representing many schools and colleges. The hall proper was also nicely decorated. A reception committee of girls met the guests at the first landing and welcomed them. They were again welcomed by members of the faculty and other members of the reception committee at the entrance of the auditorium. A buffet lunch was served.

After the reception there was a program rendered beginning at 9 o'clock. Following a song by the High School, Ira L. Nickeson, representing the school board, and H. J. Booth made talks. "Ma's New Boarders," a one-act comedy, was produced with very laughable effect by the members of the Senior Class. A tableau "Charleroi, Cosmopolitan City" was rendered by the members of the freshman class, in this many nations represented by pupils in costume and carrying flags. A violin solo was rendered by Miss Winifred Brown, an alumnus of the Charleroi High School who was forced to respond to a hearty encore. The junior class gave a scene from "Silas Marner," by George Elliot, the program concluding with a song by the Junior class.

The program was of exceptional merit. The play, the tableau and the scene from "Silas Marner" were given by the various classes in a way that did credit not only to individuals who took part, but also to the teachers who directed them. Considerable adaptability was shown to the various parts and contrary to the usual custom in such affairs parts were not overdone. Music sung by the different classes was composed by Prof. I. T. Daniel, music supervisor in the schools, and the words were written by High School students.

Many came from out of town to attend the reception, people being here from Belle Vernon, Speers, Fayette City, California, Alleport, Monessen and Monongahela.

FALLS DEAD ON STREET

Robert J. Linton Expires Returning From Masonic Affair

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN

Lived in Belle Vernon for Years---Well Known in Monongahela Valley

Robert J. Linton of Belle Vernon, one of the most prominent real estate men and members of the Masonic fraternity in the Monongahela Valley, fell dead at Fifth avenue and Wood street in Pittsburg, shortly after 10 o'clock, last night. He had left a merry gathering of Shriners in Exposition Hall a short time before and was on his way to the depot when stricken by heart disease.

Mr. Linton was seen to stagger almost in the path of a swiftly moving car in Wood street. Policeman John Harkins carried him into a cigar store. The dying man made several attempts to speak but died before a physician arrived. The body was removed to the morgue, where his identity was established by papers and letters.

One of the first things discovered in his clothing that assisted in the identification of the dead man was his Shriners cap and a program of songs that were sung last night at the ceremonial session of the Syria Temple, Ancient Accepted Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of which he was a leading member. The exercises were held in Exposition Hall and were largely attended.

One of the members said after Mr. Linton's death that the latter had complained of not feeling well and had decided to go to his home in Belle Vernon. Accordingly he left early to take a train for his home. He had previously notified his family that he would probably remain in Pittsburg with his brother, John H. Linton.

The latter was notified by morgue officials of his brother's sudden death. The widow of the dead man and his two children were notified of his death by Chief of Police J W. Anderson of Belle Vernon.

Mr. Linton was 77 years old and was one of the most influential citizens of Belle Vernon. He had large business interests in other locations, but his main investments were in real estate in Belle Vernon and the surrounding country. In addition to being a Shriner he was also a Thirty-second degree Mason and a Knight Templar. His body was sent to his former home, State street, Belle Vernon, this morning.

Mr. Linton was one of the most prominent residents of Belle Vernon. For many years he had been manager of the Smertz Window Glass Company. After the merger with the American Window Glass company Mr. Linton entered the real estate business and had been very successful. He was born in Ireland 77 years ago and came to the United States in early life. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church of Belle Vernon and assistant superintendent and teacher in the Sunday school.

He had been twice married, his first wife being Miss Caroline Doolittle, of Hudson, Ohio. Of this union three children were born, only one of whom, Robert J. Linton, Jr., a mining engineer in Mexico, survives. One daughter, Mrs. Clara Hamilton, died in China, where she and her husband, Rev. W. B. Hamilton, were missionaries. Some 30 years ago Mr. Linton married Miss Mary Robeson of Belvidere, N.J. She survives, with two children, John, employed by the Westinghouse company at East Pittsburg, and Miss Marian, at home.

RIVER MINES RUNNING SHORT

Business Slow Now With Combine Along the Monongahela

Owing to the lack of orders mines of the River Coal combine are running light in the valley now, and some of them are being entirely closed down. This is owing partly to the closing of the lake trade last December, orders which were at that time on hand having been filled. Business will hardly open up in good shape until the first of April. Apparently the River Coal mines are the only ones affected seriously and up the Pigeon Creek valley, it is stated there has been an increase.

STRAYED FROM HOTEL

Albert Gunet, nine years old, a Monongahela lad, can claim the distinction of being found by ex-President Theodore Roosevelt. The Gunet family are on their way to Belgium and had stopped over night in New York. Albert took a notion to see the town and started out alone. He hadn't gone far before he realized he was lost and began to cry. Just at this time Col. Roosevelt came along and taking pity on the lad learned his troubles and had him returned to the hotel, where his parents were stopping.

The School Code

While the average layman does not understand the proposed new school code, he should not be "agin" it, just because it is a new departure and offers some innovations in some departments. It was drawn up by a body of educators and their object is to advance the cause of education instead of, as is claimed in some quarters, seeking to put the control of the schools into fewer hands for selfish and mercenary purposes.

First of all it was designed to codify and classify the school laws and get them all together. From the time of the organization of the Commonwealth laws affecting the schools had been passed at every Legislative session. These have been added to, changed and amended, until they became so conflicting that it is hard to interpret the meaning and intent. There were also some desirable changes to be made, and it is a most opportune time to change and revise the laws to meet existing and future conditions. This is the general purpose of the school code, and it is some of the details that are causing the opposition and controversy.

One of the chief objections to the code is that the first boards after the change is made are appointed, instead of being elected. An attempt to make capital out of this is the strongest opposition, yet the provision is one of the best in the whole code. The courts, which are charged with the appointments in the small districts, would no doubt select the best available directors and the start thus made would be an incentive to continue a class of high, minded men in office. One has only to consider the personnel of the Pittsburg school boards which are elected, as disclosed by recent investigation, to be wholly in accord with the appointment of the first school boards under the proposed change. The code is all right, and should command the support of the people.

The Boroughs Rule

According to the census returns, the suburban population of Washington county is no longer in the major key. There are thirty-two boroughs in the county, and their combined population is 78,528. As the total population of the county is 143,630, the population of the thirty-three townships is therefore 65,102. The vote of the boroughs will therefore outclass the vote of the townships.

This should be a good argument for a new county in the river district, applying to Westmoreland, Allegheny and Fayette counties as well as to Washington. The most of the populous boroughs are in the river district, and would come within the jurisdiction of the new county. As the rural districts and the boroughs have different interests in the conduct of public affairs, it would be for the economic welfare of all to separate so far as possible the large boroughs and from the rural districts and combine the former in a separate county. In the matter of taxation, public improvements, and the regulation of the liquor traffic, there will always be a conflict of interests between the boroughs and the rural districts, and separation is a logical settlement of these questions.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Charleroi is a cosmopolitan place all right but we don't have any Hoosiers. To make allowance for this defection a good many people act like Indians.

A man sometimes thinks a harpoon would come handy when the other fellow starts smoking a pipe that for ages could give Methuselah a big handicap and beat him a trip around the world.

The man who invented the dictionary must have had an awful hard job.

They're getting real aristocratic at High School to have one of these high browed receptions.

E. F. Acheson overcame his prejudice to not believe in anything Gov. Tener believed in long enough to endorse the latter's good roads plan.

If evidence is conclusive many people are just as stingy as others are handy with their money.

There's more poetically inclined people to the square foot of land up in Greene county than there are in Hades. Here's another sample:

And how about Bent,
Who every week
He has went,
To see Miss Gim,
Say Frank did you know
That Lula without a beau,
Has come to our town,
To look around.

It's a pity they wouldn't get down to solid work at Washington without fighting.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Yes," remarked a Charleroi citizen, "I intend to go to the concert of the Welsh singers at the Coyle Theatre next Monday night, for the reason that I believe I'll hear some real singing. I attended one of the concerts of the other company of Welsh singers that was here last year, and heard some of the most beautiful music that I ever listened to. The reason that it caught my fancy was that the singers sang naturally and simply, every word being distinguishable. Being trained singers the effect was beautiful beyond description.

"I've often wonderedwhat the result would be if some of the great singers—I mean those who have good natural and well trained voices—would sing some really melodious selections in their natural tone of voice with a distinct enunciation. Like the late Bill Nye, I believe that classical music is better than it sounds."

A colored woman, very jauntily attired, opened the door of 'Squire Jenkins' office the other day and walked in. Beaming upon him she asked:

"Good mawnin. Is you de'Squire?"

"Yes," replied the justice, "What can I do for you"

"I done heerd tell as how you was a good 'Squire, so I comes up from Donora to get some law on mah husband."

"What has your husband been doing?"

"He's been abusin' of me sumthin' scandalous, Squire. I done can't git no law in Donora, so I comes up byre to git some law from you-all."

Squire Jenkins made some excuse about not wanting to transgress in another justice's territory—it wouldn't be legal ethics, you know, to take a case right out from under the noses of the Donora 'squires, until it dawned upon his dusky visitor that her mission was fruitless.

"Den I can't git no law today?" No? All right. Good mawnin, 'Squire," and she departed still beaming as good naturedly as when she came.

Mrs. Enos is spendin the day in Pittburg.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP

It Has Been Proved that Microbes Cause Baldness

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany and Dr. Sabourand, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under observation of eminent scienists. This micobe lodges in the Sedum, which is the natural hair oil and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial, and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it in Charleroi only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store 623 Fallowfield avenue.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Charleroi Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy or a thick red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Charleroi proof:

Mrs. Thomas Christopher, 117 Lookout avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: Some years ago a member of my family complained of a dull ache in the small of the back and other symptoms of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros' Drug Store, were finally used and they brought prompt relief. I am always willing to give this remedy my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

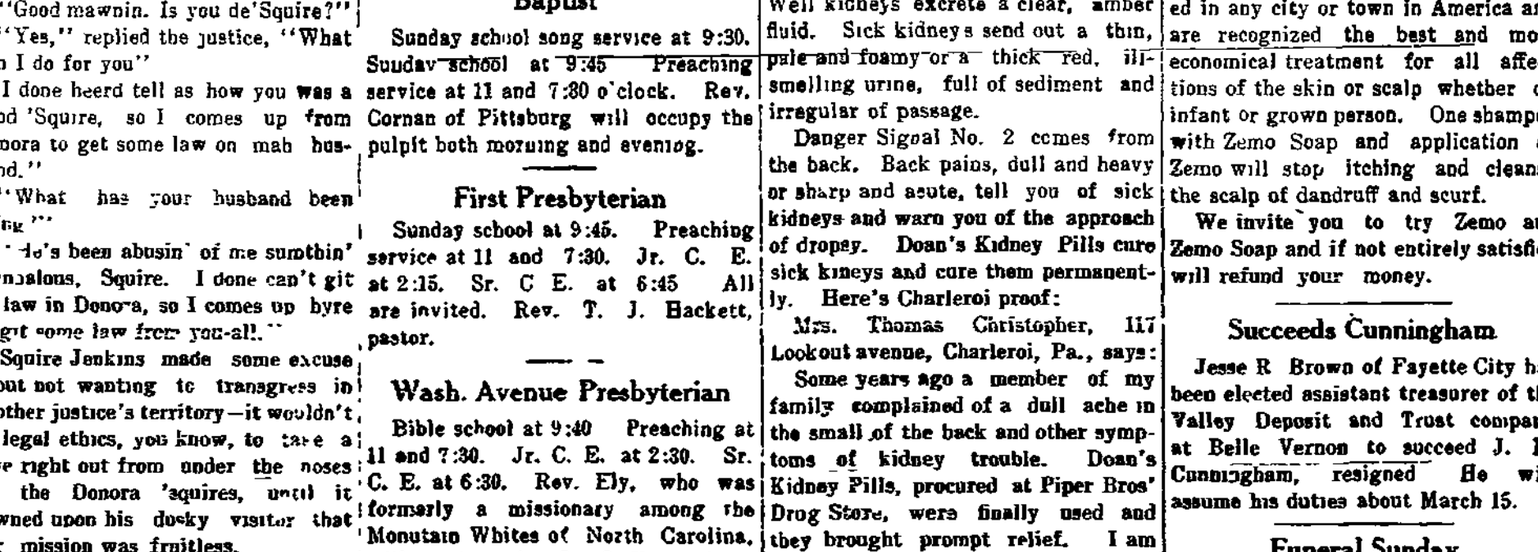
MOUNTAIN ASH CHOIR TO SING AT COYLE THEATRE



The musical event of the season, and by far the most pretentious in the annals of Charleroi, will occur Monday evening of next week, at Coyle Theatre, when the Mountain Ash Male Choir, of Wales, will be heard in a repertoire of choruses, glees and part-songs. The appearance in Charleroi of this noted aggregation of Welsh warblers, en route home from a visit to the Pacific coast, assures the music lovers of this community an opportunity to hear the most celebrated male chorus of Wales, whose record of 21 first awards at the national festivals is unexcelled. Prof. T. Glynowr Richards, the conductor of the choir, is a national figure in Wales, and is regarded as the leading tone colorist of the "Land of Song." Accompanying the choir are five eminent soloists, including D. Cynon Evans, Anthony Jones and M. J. Edwards, tenors, and D. Penar Williams, baritone, and Godfrey Price, basso.

The sale of reserved seat is now on at Piper's Drug Store and the demand indicates that a large and representative audience will listen to the choir next Monday evening. It is worth the price of admission alone to hear this noted organization sing Parks' setting of Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe," not to mention Ambroise Thomas' "The Tyrol," a descriptive selection of a storm in the Alps mountains. The program will include, in addition to the afore-mentioned numbers, Laureat de Rille's masterpiece, "Martyrs of the Arena," a selection depicting the persecution of the early Christains, together with Sir Edward Elgar's "The Reveille," Edward German's "O! Peaceful Night," Rhys Ford's "Lullaby," and other standard works Don't fail to secure seats for this event.

The Palace—Charleroi.

One of those beautiful, mysterious French photoplays, where visions of bygone events and tragedies are told in human form and action to the eider, was enacted at the Palace this week. This was the story of an old Chauteau, where a bridal party of young people are celebrating a joyous event, and the game is for the bride to secrete herself about the grounds and the first of her young girl friends to discover her hiding place will herself be the first of the company to wed. The bride finds a secret passage that leads to an underground apartment, and entering discovers a door to another apartment. Undoing the fastenings she enters, and the door swinging shut behind her and makes her a prisoner. Later she beholds a clothed figure sitting in a chair facing an open huge volume propped up on a table. Touching the figure which collapses it proves to be a skeleton, clothed in woman's robes. Opening the book the tragedy that caused the incarceration of the skeleton is enacted in miniature. It was the old story of man's duplicity and woman's inconstant love. By means of a stray cat the bride's hiding place is disclosed, and the groom makes a thrilling rescue. Some thrilling western scenes were also features. Louis Brusa and John Evers continue to charm the audiences with their illustrated and spot light songs.

The Coyle—Charleroi

The attraction at the Coyle Theatre next Tuesday February 28, will be "The Thief," The play, translated from the French and written by Henri Bernstein, deals in a powerful way with one of the large problems of modern social life. It tells the story of the Thief, a woman who yielded to temptation, sheerly through love for her husband. The three acts were full of dramatic situations and the climaxes were long sustained. Miss Lucille Spicney, as Marise, handles the difficult portrayal of the leading character in a convincing and charming way. The supporting company is strong and accords excellent aid in the expression of characters not easy to portray, Henry T. Crossen as Raymond doing especially well.

The Alvin—Pittsburg

Marie Cahill, who comes to the Alvin Theatre next week in her latest New York success, the unusual musical comedy, "Judy Forgot," is known the world over as the popularizer of some of our greatest song hits, the coon song and "The Bamboo Tree" being included in the list.

Miss Cahill says the trouble with most song written for popular success is, that they either lack a systametic story or the necessary humorous idea such as distinguished one of her present hits. So much depended on the pinning strength and dancing ability of the chorus of Marie Cahill's unusual musical comedy, "Judy Forget," that Daniel V. Arthur refused to consider the regulation musical comedy show girl, who can do little else than pose for a place, and that is why he engaged college girls, young girls of unusual physical attractiveness, and had them taught how to dance, and the result is that Judy's chorus is a feature of the performance in place of an animated background.

The Grand—Pittsburg

While there are many important features in the program of cultured vaudeville, which Manager Harry Davis announced for the week beginning Monday afternoon, February 27, in the Grand, two engagements of stellar prominience will especially attract public attention. These are Lovenber's "Operatic Festival," with a company of 15 grand opera soloists, and the distinguished American character actor, William H. Thompson, who will present for the first time a playlet entitled "The Wise Rabbi," written by Leo Uietrichstein.

Mr. Thompson's supporting company includes Evangeline Irving, a sister of Isable Irving and a young actress of splendid attainments. Mr. Thompson is too well known to require extensive comment upon his career. He has been recognized as America's foremost character actor for many years and has starred in such productions as "The Bishop" and "The Secret of Polichenelli." In vaudeville he has presented a number of one act plays beginning with "For Love's Sweet Sake" and including Sir Conan Doyle's "Waterloo" "Pride of Regiment" and "The Cardinal's Stratagem" Altogether nine acts and a series of motion pictures will comprise the Grand's offering.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg.

Edwin Wilton Royle's stirring and picturesque drama, "The Squaw Man," which has been one of the pronounced footlight success of this generation is to be the attraction at the Duquesne Theatre next week, where this high-royalried play—never before seen in stock in Pittsburg—will be given for the first time at low prices in that city. The Harry Davis Stock players will thus have another brilliant and enjoyable opportunity to reveal their happy skill in the felicitous impersonation of characterisuic Western types. "The Squaw Man" takes its queer title from the fact that its hero is a whit man who has married an Indian maiden and this earns for himself this curious sobriquet. He is a self-exile from his home in England where he enjoys rank and title. But he is under a cloud In the end his aristocratic relatives find him upon his American ranch with his redskin bride. A little son, half English and half Indian, has been born unto them, and the crisis comes when these relatives seek to tear him away form his forest-born wife and to separate this devoted Indian mother from her child. A deep and big heart interest invest these scenes of the drama. They have a wonderful human appeal. At the Duquesne next week Albert Morrison will be the hero and Mary Hall the Indian wife

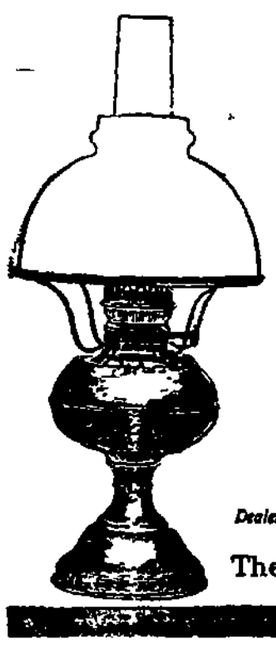
The Famous Rayo

Gives the Best Light at Any Price



When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickeled, and easily polished.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE DISCUSSED

Good roads occupied the attention of the Monessen Board of Trade at their meeting last night and several well known speakers were present. Among the chief speakers was Crombie Allen from Greensburg. The matter of a free bridge connecting Monessen and Charleroi, was refered to the executive committee to report at the next meeting.

Stories of the Paris Courts.

Among humorous stories of the Paris law courts it is told how a well known lawyer, M. Alem Rousseau, was once pleading a rather tiresome case and, noticing that the judges were paying no attention to him, said, "As the president is falling asleep I suspend my speech." But the judge had just woke up and cried, "And I suspend you from practicing for six months." Nothing daunted, the lawyer retorted, "Well, I suspend myself forever and ever," and, gathering up his brief and cap, he left the court and never appeared again.

A Paris barrister, M. Clery, however, was more vigorous. Seeing that the president and the assessors were all asleep, he stopped, and, dealing a tremendous blow on the desk in front of him that woke everybody up with a start, he cried, "Yesterday at this same hour I was saying"— And the whole bench rubbed their eyes and asked each other if they had really slept through twenty-four hours.

The same counsel was pleading at Versailles on a cold day and remarked that the judges were all turning more and more around toward a stove that gave out a welcome heat. "The tribunal behind which I have the honor of speaking" brought them all right about face at once.

He Had a Claim.

In a certain town was a young lawyer whose father was very rich and who had been sent to an eastern law school. Since his graduation he had done nothing except open an office because he had plenty of money. This young lawyer was proposed for membership in the local fire company.

"We cannot elect him," one of the members protested. "The constitution of our company says that the members of it must sleep and live here in the city, and he lives out of town on a farm and not in the city at all. He would be of no value at all in case of a fire at night. He doesn't sleep here at night."

"No," replied his proposer; "it is true he doesn't sleep here at night, but he sleeps here in his office all day."

And they elected him on that ground.—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.
